Job Overview:

The Medical Director of Inpatient and Outpatient BMT and Cellular Therapy Services at Colorado Children's Hospital and University of Colorado is responsible for providing clinical leadership and strategic direction for the Blood and Marrow Transplantation (BMT) program. The ideal candidate will be at the level of Associate or Full Professor and have demonstrated abilities in clinical care and research.

Key Responsibilities:

- Provide clinical leadership and strategic direction for the clinical BMT and cellular therapy program, including inpatient and outpatient services
- Oversee research initiatives and clinical trials related to BMT and cellular therapy
- Partner with the Quality Manager to develop and implement clinical programs that enhance the quality of care and improve patient outcomes
- Provide direct patient care to patients with blood and marrow transplant disorders
- Manage the BMT Advance Practice Provider (APP) team and ensure that all team members are working to scope
- Work closely with Nursing staff and other healthcare professionals to ensure that patients receive optimal care
- Participate in teaching and mentoring medical students, residents, and fellows

Qualifications:

- MD or DO degree with board certification in Pediatrics, Hematology/Oncology and advanced training or experience in BMT and cellular therapy
- Associate or Full Professor level with a strong record of clinical care and research in BMT
- Experience managing clinical programs and teams
- Demonstrated experience in developing and implementing clinical research initiatives
- Excellent interpersonal, communication, and leadership skills
- Ability to work collaboratively with a multidisciplinary team of healthcare professionals
- Commitment to teaching and mentoring medical students, residents, and fellows

The Medical Director of Inpatient and Outpatient BMT Services will be an integral member of the Division of Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders (CCBD), Colorado Children's Hospital and University of Colorado healthcare team, contributing to the institution's mission of providing exceptional patient care, education, research and advocacy. The successful candidate will be offered a competitive compensation package, comprehensive benefits, and opportunities for professional growth and advancement.
